During a German-Polish transport conference held in Kuestrin-Neustadt on 4 and 5 April 1951, it was learned that Karlheinz Grahl, political commissar of the transportation police, was in charge of the political surveillance of the personnel of all locomotive columns stationed in Frankfurt/Oder and of the workers employed for maintenance on the Oder/Neisse bridges. Grahl is 25 years of age and comes from Berlin. *

25X1A * [REDACTED] Comment. The transport conference mentioned was reported previously. Locomotive Columns No 2, 4, 5, and 8, with a total of approximately 1,300 men, are stationed in Frankfurt/Oder. See [REDACTED]
